Farmers Urged To Not Postpone ASC Filing

Coffee County farmers who are taking part in the ASCS program are urged to file their applications as soon as possible. Roy L. Ellis, Chairman of the Coffee County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said that while farmers should certify compliance as soon as possible, they also must understand that acreage certifications are not to be made until they know they are in compliance with all program regulations.

When a participant in a 1970 program certifies compliance, he certifies that he has usually the result of carelessness or misunderstanding. We hope this year to find fewer certification mistakes than ever before," the ASCS Committee Chairman said.

As soon as a program participant certifies, the County ASCS Office begins processing papers for his full payment for 1970 program participation. Payments to producers will begin soon after July 1 and are expected to be completed by the end of August -- the earliest date ever set for completion.

Jus' Rambled

BY LUCILE K. WOODHAM MCRAE

I'm sorry this happened and I'm sorry I learned who is responsible for it. In my investigation I had to learn and sometimes knowledge can result in a loss of confidence of people you have known, admitted and respected so many years - the price and the result following such tactics will be even higher. Was it worth it? I ask.

Now, just for the record, before any of you get some ridiculous idea - I do not own this bank anything and never have, but I do think we have some good friends in that firm.

Frankly, though defeated, I have never been so relieved that an election was over. I think everyone was thoroughly tired of the primaries. I am sorry that it was "race" that elected our next governor because there is no question but that many voters went to the polls with "race" the only issue before them.

Certainly we pray that the election resulted in what will be a better government, that is what the majority of the people have endorsed and we should now all lend our support to the nominees.

GEORGE WALLACE was elected by a 51 vote of the people of Alabama. Let us say that with this complimentary vote of the people of Alabama that he will be inspired to work equally as hard after he gets into office as he did to get elected to the office. Let us say he will make good on his promises - all of them.

THE RUN-OFF primary is now over and I think I can say just about everyone is relieved. It has been a rough, hard and grueling campaign. A lot of hard feelings have been developed - some have left wounds that may never heal. There has been a lot of untruths by sources that is surprising, actually shocking, the most shocking being from a source in Andalusia and Florida, attempting to damage a bank in Opp to the extent of creating a "run" on that fine, long established institution. That rumor was just that - a rumor. It never happened, not even in the smallest degree, but was told even as far west as Dothan. When I was first told of this destructive rumor I made the statement that it was not true, could not be true. I know these people personally and I know they would not be guilty of what was being circulated. But never settle for a rumor being true or false without making an attempt to actually know the truth. In our investigation we learned that instead of people taking their money out of the bank by the "basketful" deposits have increased.

That shows the confidence and faith their customers have in this bank which is one of the few to survive the depression years and continues to have the same supervision, the same level-headed, safe approach to all problems.

I don't want to believe the people responsible for this "race of the belt tactic" would do such a thing. The sad thing is that the guilty party has lost more money than they could ever gain. Even winning the election, which they would have done without a low unscrupulous tactic, will not save this action which will not be forgotten, ever, by even the closest friends, who will look at them in a different light. It is sad that anyone, and especially intelligent people will let themselves become emotionally involved that they lose all sense of right and wrong. Another sad thing about these "guilty tactics" is the people who will believe, never for a moment accepting the obligation of investigating before reacting, thus are also guilty of a terrible wrong. That is the kind of people those responsible for this sad affair thrive on.

I can assure you not any of it is true. I did investigate as I always do. Did you? Or did you repeat not knowing, but stating it to be true? To you may seem something destroyed? Do you wonder that some of our young people today go on destructive sprees, when older people set the example before them? If this terrible thing had developed and the firm was damaged because it would the guilty persons happy about it? But in this case the "worm has turned" - there is the possibility of a court case and not even a governor-elect they supported will be willing to endorse or even to recognize the guilty persons. They would be an embarrassment to him.

Many "guilty" tactics were used in this campaign. I am sure that had no part in this campaign was the "guilty" in this part of the state and will probably be the grandchild of the entire state. The people of this firm know who is responsible for this "guilty tactic". In other words the "thor" of it, and so does a number of other people. This was not guilty of any of "tactics" and were shocked at they would be a target as this.

Food for Thought

Would you believe that only 10 years ago jet planes, electric toothbrushes, and wigs were something of a rarity? In fact, just a decade ago you probably thought that we might someday land a man on the moon - but not in your lifetime. Such is the speed of today's technology.

More than a few people believe that we are living on the edge of the greatest historical era we have ever known. One newspaper man said recently, "We will see changes which will dwarf those of the Renaissance, and they will come about not in 400 years but in just one generation - the generation of our children."

This is going to make that generation even more difficult. It's particularly so when you consider that in the United States we have 57 million kids in school, and 20 million more under five years of age.

WHAT TO DO ABOUT ALLERGIES

The Allergy Foundation of America has estimated that as many as 5 million children in the United States suffer from hay fever or asthma.

Dr. Harold Klingler, of the State Health Department, says, "Allergies have been found to be a leading chronic disease in children, accounting for nearly a third of all chronic conditions in children under 17 years of age."

"Many allergies are of a chronic nature and in some cases may take months to see the end result," Dr. Klingler explains. "However, if allergic management does not result in relief of symptoms after a period of months, the possibility that symptoms may be due to some other cause must be considered," he adds.

Dr. Klingler suggests that the avoidance of common inhalants and irritants in the home environment could reduce or even eliminate some childhood allergies. He offers these tips towards avoiding and eliminating the more important irritants and inhalants from the child's environment:

Pollen irritation can be lessened by installing in the bedroom window an efficient air conditioner. The bedroom environment demands particular attention, in that pillows of feathers, down, cotton or kapok should be replaced with those of synthetic fiber.

Mattresses made of cotton or kapok should be replaced with plastic casings, down-filled comforters should be replaced with blankets woven of wool or of synthetic fiber which have been thoroughly washed several times.

Small rugs should be replaced with large rug or carpet which entirely or nearly covers the floor. All overstuffed furniture and cushions in the bedroom should be removed.

All under-run felt cushions made of cattle hair should be removed. Avoid garments lined or trimmed with rabbit hair. Avoid loosely woven materials.

Cats and dogs should not be allowed in the house. Fur-covered toys should be removed from the immediate environment of the child.

Avoid, wherever possible, exposure of the child to smoke-filled rooms. Avoid damp or musty places. Avoid the more irritating substances which can set off an attack of allergy such as heavily scented toilet soaps and powders, nail polish, hair spray, dry-cleaning fluids, all types of insecticide sprays, moth balls, fresh varnish, fresh floor wax and furniture polish, paint lacquers, gasoline, kerosene and similar irritants.

less driving, speeding, wrong side of road, defective equipment, wet slick roads, failure to yield right - of - way and inattention ran off road. The Dothan District has 23 rural traffic fatalities so far this year as compared with 27 at the same period last year.

Coffee County troopers investigated no accidents with no injuries and no fatalities. So far this year 4 people have died in Coffee County as compared with 1 at the same time last year.

Accidents don't just happen. They're often caused by the driver's attitude at the wheel. Some drivers feel the other fellow is always wrong. Some drivers are aggressive and intolerant when they slip into the driver's seat. Some drivers act with reckless abandon when they sense the force of 250 horsepower at their toes. But accidents aren't always somebody else's fault. Check your attitude. Be mature! You'll be a better driver... and a far safer one.

"If at first you don't succeed, try, try again," is an old saying which, in the case of Specialist 4 Tom Parrott, can be translated: "If you can't get to the New York Stock Exchange, the Australian Exchange will do."

Parrott, who earned the title "wheeler-dealer" at the age of six with his first lemonade stand, planned to spend his R & R (rest and recreation) period from Vietnam like anyone else in Australia... soaking up the sun.

Then one day he dropped into the Australian Stock Exchange to see how business is done "down under." He was surprised to find that the government actively encourages American investments and he decided to take advantage of that fact.

Spec. 4 Parrott now owns stock in an airline operating within Australia, and two gas stations. He plans to return to Australia after his discharge from the Army to oversee his "budding empire."

Soon afterwards, Congress appropriated $125,000, enough to buy five new planes. And military aviation "took off" from there.

FACTS ABOUT THE ARMY

Did you know:

- That such personalities as Vice Damore, Jack Parr and Hans Conried served with the American Forces Radio and Television Service while in the Army?

- That fewer than 3,500 Medals of Honor (the nation's highest award for fighting men) have been awarded since 1867? When you consider that there have been some 37 million men in the U.S. Army during that time, the figure becomes even more impressive.

Things are seldom what they seem.
Big cars often pose as big cars, when they're really small cars.
For instance, Notice how much bigger the big car seems than the Volkswagen Squareback Sedan.
Then count the number of suitcases it can take on only 12.
Now, notice how small the Squareback seems to be.
Then count the number of suitcases it can take on 16.
That's because the Squareback has 32 cubic feet of carrying space.

Which is one and a half times as much as that of the largest sedan trunk.
Of course, if you really have a lot to carry you can always fold down the Squareback's rear seat. Then you'll have more than twice as much carrying space as the largest sedan trunk.
So which would you rather have? A sedan that looks like a big bully but really is a 12-suitcase weakling? Or a little fellow who's really a 16-suitcase giant?
